NOTE

The Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum in the Fenway, Incorporated, was incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, December 19, 1900, Mrs. Gardner's sole beneficial ownership of the works of art held by this corporation being represented by stock. (For the Certificate of Incorporation see p. 6 and for a copy of an Act of 1925 authorizing the corporation to hold additional real and personal estate, not exceeding eight million dollars, see p. 7.)

The Will and Codicil of Isabella Stewart Gardner probated August 21, 1924, gave to Trustees all her land in Boston including Fenway Court and the land adjacent thereto, and her works of art, or her interest therein as represented by stock of The Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum in the Fenway, Incorporated. (For the relevant provisions of the Will and Codicil see p. 8.)

On November 23, 1936, the Trustees then surviving executed an Agreement of Association with the intention of forming a corporation under Chapter 180 of the General Laws of the Commonwealth (see p. 11). A certificate of Incorporation was granted on December 23, 1936, as of the date of the said Agreement (see p. 13). An Act authorizing the corporation to hold additional real and personal estate not exceeding twelve million dollars was approved March 23, 1937 (see p. 14), and this limit was raised to twenty million dollars by an Act approved April 4, 1955. (See page 14.)

The Trustees under the Will having resigned upon the formation of the corporation, The Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum, Incorporated, was on December 24, 1936, appointed by the Probate Court of Suffolk County, sole Trustee of the estate theretofore held in trust by the individual Trustees. (For the Certificate of the Probate Court, see p. 15.)

By an Act of the General Court of the Commonwealth approved May 14, 1943, the real estate in Boston of the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum, Inc., was exempted from taxation as from January 1, 1943. (For the Act see page 16.)

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

TO THE TRUSTEES:

If we were a manufacturing or service company, we should state the volume of our output and in return the number of dollars received. In our case, our output or offering is "for the education and enjoyment of the public," and in return our compensation is the number of visitors we receive. This last year our compensation in the form of visitors on regular open weekdays was 53,258, which was the largest weekday attendance the Museum has ever had. The total Sunday attendance was 40,357, which was considerably under the annual average since 1938 and was probably due to stormy Sunday weather. However, the total visitors on the regular admittance days were 93,615, only 1,077 less than last year. For the last fifteen years, the annual average has been roughly 90,000.

As explained last year, the very nature and purpose of the Gardner Museum is and must be unchangeable, but this does not mean that certain suggestions to attract more visitors may not be tried.

Every year there are a certain number of persons from a distance, which is sometimes great, who are here for a limited time and want to see the Museum, but find they have hit upon a closed day and are deeply disappointed. This year for the first time, an informal and somewhat inaccurate count was kept and amounted to about 918.* To cope with such a demand, it was decided to offer guided tours under certain conditions on closed days. As this experiment has only recently been put into practice, its value has not yet been proved, but it is hoped and believed that it will add materially to the numbers who may wish to avail themselves of the opportunity to see and enjoy the Museum and thereby warrant the additional expense of being open either wholly or partially every day in the week.

There were five special receptions given during the year, of which two were given by Trustees of the Museum, one to Miss Nadia Boulanger, the noted French musician who was later given an honorary degree by Harvard University, and the other to the delegates to the Convention of the Atlantic Treaty Association, the civilian affiliate of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The full list of receptions is mentioned by the Director in his report.

Another matter of marked importance to the Trustees was the resignation of Mr. Greene as Trustee, Treasurer, and Secretary, to take effect at the end of December 1958. Mr. Greene was elected as Trustee and Treasurer of the new corporation at the beginning of 1937, and as Secretary on May 15, 1944, succeeding Mrs. Monks. His long service of 22 years has been of the highest quality and value to the Museum and a pleasure and a comfort to his fellow Trustees. His positions have been filled by the election of Mr. Gardner as Treasurer and Mr. Malcolm Donald Perkins as Secretary. Mr. Perkins has also been elected as Trustee and Assistant Treasurer. He is a lawyer and a partner in the firm of Herrick, Smith, Donald, Farley and Ketchum. Mr. Gardner's term of office as Treasurer and Mr. Perkins's position as Trustee and terms of office as Secretary and Assistant Treasurer took effect on January 1, 1959.

The income of the Museum from General Funds showed an increase of $10,387.93, compared with last year. Sales and teas produced a small amount less than last year, but nothing substantial.

The total expenses increased $16,873.25, leaving a net balance of income over expenses of $90,278.04, a decrease of $6,612.22 compared with last year. After transferring the customary $10,000 to our own Pension Fund, the final result is a surplus for the year of $80,278.04, leaving the final net decrease over last year the same as stated above.

Attention is called to alterations made in Articles VI and IX of the By-Laws as amended on March 12, 1958.

Further details of the management and maintenance of the Museum will be found in the Report of the Director, which follows, and also in the Treasurer's financial statements with the accompanying report of the independent public accountants.

The Trustees take pleasure in conveying their undiminished appreciation to the entire staff of the Museum, the greenhouse, and the office, for their loyal interest and competence.

F. L. HIGGINSON,
President

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR

TO THE TRUSTEES:

The year has not been marked by any feature in museum operation. Somewhat more than usual was done on the building and on the care of the collection. Probably these activities will have to be kept larger than has been customary, in order to avoid a serious decline in condition. Outside wooden stairs on the east were replaced by iron; part of the electrical wiring was renewed and conduits were improved, procedures that will need to be continued for many months; a study of the heating system was started; drawings were made for a fire-tight housing to the elevator shaft. These and many smaller undertakings are portions of a persistent effort to preserve the holdings and to keep them intact for the public benefit. A concomitant of this endeavor is that it be inconspicuous. Renovations and repairs ought not to look fresh or to intrude on the venerable character of the establishment.

Those changing aspects which now have become characteristic are the programs of music and the supply of flowers to the court and the outer gardens. The past year seems to have been especially opulent in the plants that were grown, and the gardeners set themselves a higher standard as each season goes by. Musical programs have been presented on 143 weekdays and these have been performed, in all, by 33 pianists (with 13 more as accompanists), 30 singers, 11 instrumental ensembles, 7 violinists, 5 woodwind players, 3 choruses, 3 cellists, and 1 harpist. On Sundays 47 programs have been provided by 8 pianists (8 others were accompanists), 7 trios, 7 duets, 6 string quartets, 5 singers, 4 violinists, 3 choruses, 2 instrumental ensembles, 2 quintets, 1 chamber orchestra, 1 violist, and 1 harpist.

General attendance for the year is recorded as 94,533, only about 150 less than the year preceding, in spite of a much poorer attendance, evidently because of bad weather, during January, February, March, and December. Those months altogether fell nearly 7,000 below the same ones in 1957. Towards the end of 1958 a trial was begun of guided tours during closed days. If these become regular, they will make the museum available to visitors every day in the year except national holidays and weekends during August. The standard tours on mornings of open days were attended by 1,169 persons. Besides these, 84 tours were offered for special groups. Attendance at these was:

Boston public schools	11 groups	404 persons
Public schools outside Boston	45	1,557
Private schools	13	370
Colleges	27	832
Miscellaneous organizations	83	5,279
Special openings	13	849

Following established custom, tours followed by afternoon teas were arranged for 17 groups comprising 3,579 persons. There were five other special events:

April 24	Reception for Mlle Nadia Boulanger (Museum)
May 15	Lecture and reception for Prof. Paul Underwood (Byzantine Institute and Museum)
March 12	Friends of Music of Boston University
Sept. 28	Atlantic Treaty Association (Museum)
Nov. 21	Musicale and reception for the sponsors of the Metropolitan Opera Regional Auditions

Among publications offered for sale to the public there has been little change. Preparation of color reproductions, 3 in full size and 4 in postcard size, was nearly finished and the printing was in prospect. Two books have been prepared in copy: a monograph on Titian's Rape of Europa written by Prof. Arthur Pope, and a revised and amplified Guide to the collection. The information folder, issued first in 1957, has been distributed without charge in the number of approximately 20,400.

Sale of publications (cash return, $4,618.28) has been:

Reproductions of Paintings (Pope and Hatch)	41
Catalogue of Exhibited Paintings and Drawings (Hendy)	81
Isabella Stewart Gardner & Fenway Court (Carter)	52
General Catalogue (Longstreet)	32
Gardner Collection (Carter)	154
Museum Guides	5,416
Photographs	384
Color Prints	2,390
Postcards	28,332
Greeting Cards	2,278
Photographic Cards	208
Calendars	47
Color Transparencies, 35 mm.	462
Other Publications	30

Provisions for the care of the collection have included added equipment for examination and treatment, and plans for an adjustment of space to admit a small microscope room and examination facilities in the photographic studio. # REPORT OF INDEPENDENT PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

To The Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum, Incorporated, Trustee Under the Will of Isabella Stewart Gardner:

We have examined the statement of assets and fund balances of The Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum, Incorporated, Trustee under the will of Isabella Stewart Gardner, as of December 31, 1958 and the related statements of changes in fund balances and income received, expenditures and appropriations for the year then ended. In accordance with the generally accepted practice of nonprofit organizations, the accounting records are maintained generally on a cash basis and include no receivables, accruals or prepayments of items of expense and income, except in respect of United States Savings Bonds purchased on a discount basis, on which interest has been accrued to the extent of the increment in the redemption value. Also, in conformity with practices acceptable for such organizations, museum property is carried at appraised values as shown in the Trustee's inventory at December 24, 1936 and no depreciation thereon is provided. Our examination of such statements was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements present fairly, on the basis indicated which is consistent with that of the preceding year, the recorded assets and fund balances of The Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum, Incorporated, Trustee, as of December 31, 1958 and the changes in fund balances and income received, expenditures and appropriations for the year.
